DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 1 line 1, "ca" should be corrected; page 2 line 14, "hull" appears to be incorrect; page 3 line 4, "the embedded" is grammatically awkward. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claims 1-3, 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nunley (US 5190410).

Nunley discloses a bottom-supported offshore structure comprising a buoyant hull (4), a plurality of legs (8) engaged with the hull for supporting the hull when the hull is in an operational condition, a mat (1) secured to lower portions of the legs, said mat having sufficient buoyancy to facilitate floating of the hull when the structure is in transit, while facilitating lowering of the mat to a seabed without assistance of a ballasting means (see Fig. 1, col. 1 lines 44-46, 50-65). The mat comprises a plurality of hollow mat-forming members (see col. 3 line 19), said hollow members defining a central opening (3) in the mat. The mat has a pre-determined surface footprint, and wherein said central opening (3) occupies a substantial portion of said surface footprint.

Art Unit: 3673

The mat has a surface footprint sufficient to ensure stability of the structure when the mat is embedded into the seabed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claims 4 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nunley in view of Diamond et al. (US 3433024).

Nunley discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Nunley is silent about a bottom portion of the hull is shaped to extend into the central opening in the mat. Diamond et al. teaches a bottom portion of a hull is shaped to extend into the central opening in a mat (see Figs. 2,5). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Nunley by forming the bottom portion of his hull inorder for it to extend into the central opening in his mat as taught by Diamond et al. since such a modification allows for a more hydrodynamic transit means.

With regards to claims 6-10, the recited method steps are considered to be obvious in

With regards to claims 6-10, the recited method steps are considered to be obvious in view of the combination as described above.
